HIGHWAY CRASH CLAIMS ONE LIFE

Excessive dust conditions on Highway 57 claimed another life last Friday when Carl Badick, 19, of Violet Grove, was instantly killed in a car crash that completely demolished both vehicles. A passenger with Mr. Badick in the car, Miss Mary Froehner, 17, of Helder, Alberta, was seriously injured.

Driver of the other car, Ronald Fuhr, 20, of Drayton Valley, was also seriously hurt in the collision. The accident occurred shortly after 4:00 p.m., Friday, July 8th, four and a half miles north of Drayton Valley, about half a mile north of the Rocky Rapids-Esplanade corner.

The two traffic victims were rushed to Drayton Valley Municipal Hospital where they were given immediate aid, following which they were rushed by Drayton Valley Ambulance to University Hospital in Edmonton, with a police escort from the junction of Highway 57 and 16 on into Edmonton.

The car driven by Mr. Badick was going north and the car driven by Mr. Fuhr was travelling south, at the time of the accident. One of the cars at the scene immediately in a two-car collision on Highway 57 four miles north of Drayton Valley, Friday afternoon, July 8th, were conducted from Drayton Valley United Church at 2:00 o'clock, the afternoon of Tuesday, July 12th. With the regular minister, the Reverend Albion Wright on vacation at the time, the funeral service was read by supply minister Rev. Brian Gee.

Both Miss Froehner and Mr. Fuhr were reported by attending physicians to be in serious condition. Both had many cuts and bruises and facial lacerations. Both had received broken legs in the accident. Ronald's leg was in quite bad condition from a compound fracture. However, both were taken off the critical list over the week-end, and they are both reported to be making a satisfactory recovery. Grafting is being done from Mr. Fuhr's thigh to his leg.

Funeral services from Mr. Badick were conducted Tuesday afternoon from Drayton Valley United Church.

Mr. Earl Thompson

Earl Thompson was born in Wren, Virginia. His parents brought him to Alberta as a baby immediately after World War I. The Thompson family came to Rocky Mountain House, where the elder Mr. Thompson had taken out a homestead in 1906, proved it up and then had returned to the U.S. After returning permanently to the Rocky Mountain House district Mr. Thompson Sr. engaged in farming and as a lumber contractor.

There were nine children in the Thompson family. Mr. Thompson Sr. passed away in Rocky Mountain House last year at the age of eighty; Earl's mother still lives there.

Earl attended public school in Rocky Mountain House and then went to High School in Red Deer.

The Depression years of the mid-thirties saw Earl with a partner, spending the winters in the Brazeau River district. In the vicinity of the present dam, running trap lines. Mr. Thompson spent the winters from 1938 to the year 1939, when the war broke out, in the remote Brazeau district trapping. They established four permanent cabins along the river on the south side of the Brazeau. It was a hard four-day hike from Rocky Mountain House to the first cabin, with a heavy pack. Of course, no furs or luxuries were carried in, only a barrel of necessities, salt, tea, a little flour and sugar, ammunition, etc. From there on, for about six months they lived entirely off the country, which abounded with game and fur-bearing animals of all kinds.

The car on the right is the Badick vehicle and the one on the left side of the picture is the Fuhr automobile. The trucks and automobiles lined up behind are waiting for the road to be cleared.

Wrestling NOTICE

Professional wrestling in the Curling Club on Wednesday night, July 6, brought out a very good crowd. The show was sponsored by Drayton Valley Lion Club, and the fans got their money's worth during the action-packed card.

First Event featured was between Stu Hart, 240 lbs. of Calgary and Ray Osborne, 240 lbs. of Jasper Place. George McArthur was referee for all the matches. The first event was a one fall, 45 minute time limit card. The event almost went the time limit, with the referee finally giving the decision to Hart.

The Second Event, two out of three falls, with a 60 minute time limit was between Jim (Dell Call) Wright, 285 lbs. of Dallas, Texas, versus Bud Osborne, 245 lbs. of Jasper Place. The event was finally stopped by the referee and declared a "no-decision" match, as both wrestlers were disqualified for using their fists.

The Third Event was between the Famous Midgitt Wrestlers, Little Beaver, 99 lbs. of Quebec, versus Major Tom Thum, 98 lbs. of London, England, a well-known English midgitt wrestler. Little Beaver got the first two falls, to be declared winner.

Following a short intermission the big boys climbed back into the ring for a tag-team match. Against the two Osborne brothers were lined Hart and Wright and after some exceedingly dirty work from both sides of the ring, the Osborne boys came out on top of the heap.

Roaring vigorously for the Osborne boys and for Little Beaver was the crowd. So much so, in fact, that the referee and Hart and Wright complained about it, wondering if perhaps the Osborne boys were "local boys".

Following the last tag match, "Rise Call" Wright and Bud Osborne were getting ready to mix it again up in the dressing room when the referee stepped in and threatened to report them to the Wrestling Commission. The threat slowed down both of the heavies and they calmed down.

The Lion Club is considering bringing another wrestling card to Drayton Valley later in the year.

CONSERVATIVE AGRICULTURE POLICY

Much has been said over the past few years about agricultural policy. About what has and has not been done. The solutions to the ills of the industry are not simple. They require long range planning. There is need of both short range and forward looking policies. We have tried to combine them in our policy to date.

Major legislation with a long range view has consisted of the Stabilization Act, the Farm Credit Corporation crop insurance scheme, rural re-development and conservation. Also in this group is the legislation such as the Saskatchewan Dam, P.P.A., A., and our payment programs for hops, eggs and wool.

Short range legislation is also important. The cash advances on farm stored grain, changes in P.P.A., improvements in a variety of acts to remove discrimination and improve the administration. The major short term battle was the storage payments. There were many of us who would like to see this as a permanent thing based on a two-price system for domestic grain. This is what I have worked for. We must encourage our farmers to diversify. There are other crops which must be grown and I refer particularly to oil seeds.

I do not suggest that we have solved the problem but we have made a honest attempt. It will take a year or more to see some of the effect of the major legislation. In the meantime we will continue to work for acreage payments and other interim help.

So far in these three years the Federal Treasury has spent $556,900, 734.25 devoted to agriculture. This is substantially more than ever before spent on agriculture in any other three year period.

Over and above this are the other things which we have done which help the farmer indirectly. Most important of these is the halting of inflation. Inflation hurts the farmer most, cuts his savings, his cost rise and usually his prices do not advance. Further to this is the $35 million we have spent maintaining the class and commodity freight rates to prevent his costs going any higher.

We hope to continue this work and have an agricultural industry sound by basing with farmers receiving a greater share of the prosperity of our nation.

THE POSITION OF THE C.N.R.

Again this year I had the opportunity to sit on the special committee examining into the C.N.R. and T.C.A. We spent a great deal of time in a detailed study of the modernization of the C.N.R. and its effects on Railway commu-

UNITIES, on the C.N.R. deficit and the future of the railways in the transportation of our country.

I would like to pass on to you the report of the Committee in this regard:

(b) The Committee takes a serious view of the continuing deficits of the Canadian National Railways.

(c) The Committee recommends that the Government might consider the advisability of strengthening the Board of Directors of the Canadian National Railways by adding to its present number.

(d) The Committee having seen evidence relating to contracts awarded by the Canadian National Railways recommends that the management consider the advisability of including in all contracts a stipulation requiring preference for Canadian goods and services.

(e) The Committee expressed its concern to the officials about the disruption of communities caused by these technological improvements and the consequent dislocation of the labor force. The Committee is of the opinion that management should do more to prepare communities for the effects of these technological changes.

I believe that the C.N.R. should make a determined effort to maintain the business it now has and increase it where possible. We now await the results of the Royal Commission on Transport which is presently sitting.

HAVE FUN

By: Rev. Leo F. Kling, Assistant,
St. Anthony's Catholic Church,
Drayton Valley.

One of the first things most children learn to recite is the proverb "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." This bit of wisdom is applicable to Jack not only as a boy, but also when a man. As the years go by and Jack and Jill grow older, they do not outgrow the need to play or relax. It is just that the how, when and where of the matter must become adult. Recreation must be regulated by a virtue; the virtue of temperance.

There are two requirements that our recreation be virtuous. First the relaxation or pleasure we seek must be decent and not harmful to others or ourselves. Second, we must take into consideration persons, places and circumstances. Some recreations may be amusing but they may not be virtuous, they may be improper or undesirable, they do not pass muster. Others are great deceptions, but again they are not good because they are hard on others; for example, singing in the shower at five in the morning!

All of us need recreation of some kind. Even when avoiding the "don'ts" mentioned above, the virtue of temperance relative to recreation allows great room for taste and opinion. There is music and dancing, gardening and fishing, reading and poker — any number of things. As long as these diversions fit into the pattern of virtuous activity and do not violate higher laws or obligations they are good.

Obviously a man's recreations are not the truly important things in his life, but they are truly important in revitalizing him for those things that are truly important.

Recreation must be seasoning and not the essence of our lives. In food a lack of seasoning is bad, too much is usually worse. It is the same with recreation. A balanced diet is what man needs.

What more natural than to use his fishing line? At the time galed moment the line was jerked from Billy's hand, and away went kite, line and rod. When last seen a south easterly course had been and the kite, with its queer freight, was gaining altitude. Billy didn't authorize us to offer a reward but he'd surely like to get that fishing rod.

LEGION BALL TOURNAMENT

The Drayton Valley Legion Baseball Tournament held on Friday and Saturday featured plenty of fine weather, exciting entertainment and delicious food, but despite all these attractions a disappointing crowd of only about 450 turned out to watch the ball games and show their support of the Legion and other organizations helping minor baseball in Drayton Valley and district. However, those who did turn out certainly received their money's worth, as action was fast and furious in all divisions of the tournament.

In the Little League games, the D.V. second team emerged victorious, first downing Redwell 6-4 and then beating the first team 10-14 in a free-scoring contest. It was a pleasure to see from these games that future Drayton Valley teams will have no lack of good ball-players and all those connected with the Little League in any way are certainly to be congratulated as we see the results of their efforts and enthusiasm.

The ladies softball competition received a minor setback when the Barhead team was unable to attend. Softball fans were treated to some fine entertainment here too, as the remaining three teams, MacKay, D.V. Braves, and Legionettes went at it fast and furious. The Legionettes came out on top, adding another honor to their already fine record.

On Sunday, the Barhead Ladies team came to Drayton Valley to play the D.V. Braves. The Legionettes won both games by scores of 10-3 and 11-7, with Rosemary Nossel pitching both games.

A combined Genesee-Warburg team went home with top money in the men's competition with Barhead second and Drayton Valley and MacKay taking the third and fourth spots.

In the first game on Friday evening the Legionettes opened Legionpole from the tournament with a score of 9-4 but they had to come from behind to do so as Logdopole led 3-0 up to the 6th inning. Legionette lineup for this game was Marshall, Porter, Wallace, Machan, Schneider, G. Tucker, Wedman, L. Tucker and Redding.

In the second game, Genesee started on their winning streak by beating Weston 6-1. Saturday was bargain day for all baseball fans when, for the price of $1.00 they could watch any or all of the five games, starting at 1:00 p.m. In this encounter it was MacKay vs. Mulholland to the tune of 11-4.

the consumption of a few dead hard fans. Unfortunately Rolfe Miles was not able to be present but the following locals did a conscientious job when called upon—Herb Redding, Mel Baxter, Ted Ducker, Ken Machan and Don Miller.

In the first game of the semi-finals Genesee and Drayton Valley met head-on and when the dust had cleared, Genesee had squeaked by on a 3-5 count. This was a real battle all the way with both teams going full out from the first pitch. Legion also scored one quick run in the first inning and despite some heroic efforts were held to this by the Genesee team until the final inning when they scored one more.

Genesee racked up their three runs in the third inning. Legionaire lineup for this game was Redding, Porter, Wallace, Machan, Schneider, G. Tucker, Wedman, Morrill, Hyland, L. Tucker and Wilson.

In the second semi-final game Barhead had it all over MacKay in a game that was never in doubt from the first inning. Final Score here was 13-7.

The final game produced some sparkling ballplaying and resulted in a 7-4 win for Genesee over Barhead to wind up a full day for players and spectators alike. Heckling the umpire is one of baseball's traditional feature attractions and the umpire in last week-end's games certainly came in for their share. This report would not be complete without a special tip of the hat to these men who took it all in good part, and continued calling the plays the way they saw them, much to

The small picture (1) taken of the trapping cabin on the south side of the Brazeau river, about three miles upstream from the present dam site, was taken by Earl Thompson in 1935, the first winter he spent in the area trapping. The cabin had recently been built when the picture was taken. It had a mud stove with open hearth and a Dutch oven for cooking. All furniture in the cabin was made from wood growing native in the area. The larger picture (2) was taken by Mr. Thompson also, in 1935, twenty-three years later. It shows the same cabin still exactly as he had left it for the last time. The cabin had recently been built when the picture was taken. Thompson's gave up the farm in 1952, and in 1953 Mr. Thompson was sent by his company to the Pembina Field where an exciting new oil strike had just recently been made by Sococo-Victum in June, 1953. Canadian Seaboard brought in their first well in February, 1954, and when the company was merged with Texaco in 1958 they had 232 wells in the field.

Mr. Thompson had worked for a couple of summers in the Turn or Valley oilfields during the time he was trapping, and while in the army he had taken a couple of mechanics' courses so when he returned to civilian life in the Stony Plain district, he was not too far from the oil strikes of Leduc and Golden Spike, etc.

Mr. Thompson married Miss Dean Berman in Rocky Mountain House in 1940. They have one young girl, Virginia Jody. During the first two years Earl was in the army Mrs. Thompson ran a restaurant during the winter months near Rocky Mountain House.

He worked for Commonwealth until 1950 and then went with Canadian Seaboard Oil as field production superintendent. The faith that Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have in Drayton Valley is shown in the splendid home they have built here.

In the March 7th, 1959 issue of the Alberta a long feature article was given to former trapping activities in the Rocky Mountain

The last two cases on the docket were charged against two Drayton Valley men of fishing without a license, in the Ponoka district. Fines of $5.00 each were levied against the two, and court costs, which is not a good way to try to save money by not buying a $1.00 fishing license.

In the article a number of pictures of cabins and mountain scenes taken by Earl or by his brothers about twenty-five years ago are shown. In one of the pictures Earl is shown in front of his cabin with his famous water-tight roof.

Also shown is a picture of the well-known Indian, Joe Stravinsky, who gives out each fall with a prediction of weather conditions for the coming winter. Joe is well over one hundred years old now, according to Earl, and is a very well-preserved old Indian.

LIONS' RODEO JULY 29-30.....

Drayton Valley's Fifth Annual Rodeo, sponsored by the Lions Club, promises to be a bigger and better affair than ever before. It has always been a good show. This is the second year the Lions have sponsored the event.

Topflight cowboys will be here for the circuit and Harry Vold's famous Rodeo stock which is rated as some of the best rodeo stock in the business. Some of Mr. Vold's stock was selected to be sent to the Texas International World Championship Show this last spring.

The first three years the Rodeo was held in Drayton Valley it was managed by the Rodeo Association, a group of civic-minded men in this community who put much time and effort and money into the affair. Then the large and enthusiastic Lions Club took it under their wing and had charge of it last year, and again this year, and the indications are that it will become a regular mid-summer community effort on the part of the Lions.

The Rodeo is held at the Drake Rodeo Grounds, just west of town, on the other side of the highway. The grounds are located on the original Drake homestead, and less than a half mile from the grounds is the original log cabin that served as the first store and post-office for Drayton Valley. Cornish and Bleasdale have been built at the grounds and each year sees some new addition to the grounds, which are leased from Mrs. Drake. It is expected that Mrs. Drake will be present again this year for the opening day of the Rodeo.

Each year the parade gets longer and more elaborate, with many childrens' entries, Oldtimers, civic figures, and industrial and commercial floats. This year there are additional cash prizes for the children's entries, donated by the Hudson's Bay Company.

The cowboys will compete for over $1000, in prize money from the regular Rodeo Circuit, which is C.P.A. approved. The local rodeo is a member of the Central Alberta Stampede Association.

Saddle Bronc Riding will pay $200. First Prize, Bareback Riding will pay $200. First Prize, Calf Roping will also pay $200. Wild Steer Wrestling will pay $200. First Prize money and Brahma Bull Riding and the Cutting Horse Contest will pay the same. Girls' Barrel Racing will pay $80.00 First Prize money.

In addition to these prizes, however, this year a number of local merchants are putting up additional special cash trophies, which will be awarded to winners of the main events.

In the Saddle Bronc Riding event Blocks Store is putting up $100. Marlock and Sons Trucking are putting up $100, for the Bare Back Riding event. For Steer Decorating Vandersgrift Seed and Gravel is putting up $100. The Calf Roping event will see an additional $100, prize put up by Mack and Mann Ltd. and the Bareback Riding event winner will be $100, richer from the cash prize trophy put up by Hillcrest Trailer Court.

The calves used in the calf roping events and the cattle used in the Cutting Horse events will be supplied by Les Tucker. Gayland Shows will provide entertainment on the grounds again this year. Gate fees will be $1.50 for adults and 50¢ for school children, with 25¢ charge for bleacher seats.

Friday, July 29, the first day of the Rodeo has been declared a public holiday in Drayton Valley. The Parade will get under way at twelve noon on Friday and will follow the same route as last year.

There will be a dance on both Friday and Saturday evening in the Curling Rink, with Gaby Haas and his famous orchestra on hand for the music. The wonderful 8 x 15' holiday Trailer shown on the front page will be drawn for on Saturday night.

Man Killed in Accident

George Robert McLaren, aged 57, died on Monday morning as the result of serious injuries sustained at a rig, near Cynthia. Mr. McLaren received a fractured pelvis on Sunday afternoon, July 17th when he was allegedly caught between a truck and the cat-head of a rig. The accident occurred in the Cynthia area.

Dr. Brooks responded to the emergency call and after attending to the badly injured man he took him in his car to the main highway where they picked up a police escort at Evansburg and made the trip to the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton.

First report stated that the injured man was doing satisfactorily, but a report early Monday morning stated that he had passed away.

He leaves behind him his loving wife, and three small children, a son Douglas, and two daughters, Debbie and Cheryl. He is also survived by seven sisters and two brothers.

Funeral arrangements were made by Andrew-McLaughlin Funeral Chapel, in Edmonton. The body of Mr. McLaren was sent to Rock Haven, Saskatchewan for burial.

Coroner Dr. Brooks has called for an inquest to be held on Thursday, July 28, at 1:00 p.m. The inquest will probably be held in the Council Chambers of the new Town Hall.

Woman Dies of Burns

Mrs. Cora Radebaugh, 44, passed away as the result of burns received when the Radebaugh house burned to the ground near Drayton Valley several weeks ago. Following the fire here she was rushed to Royal Alexandra Hospital, but the burns proved fatal and she passed away on July 17th.

As well as her husband, William, she leaves to mourn their loss four sons, Joseph, Wayne, Gerald and Orville and three daughters, Lorraine, Dorothy and Dorcas.

Funeral arrangements were made by Andrew-McLaughlin Funeral Chapel, in Edmonton. The body of Mrs. Radebaugh was sent to Vermilion, and funeral services and interment were at nearby Hilly.
